Coal Deadlock Is Put Into Truman's Hands

Ching Gives It Up As Hopeless

Washington, Nov. 16—(AP)—The deadlocked coal dispute was put in President Truman's hands today for action.

With a new coal strike threatened in two weeks, Cyrus S. Ching, federal mediation service director, turned the whole contract dispute over to Mr. Truman as hopeless.

A quick White House decision was expected, possibly tomorrow, in an effort to prevent a new mine walkout on December 1.

Will Try Fact Finders

It was indicated Mr. Truman will (1) give John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers a chance to submit his demands to a special fact-finding board and, if Lewis balks at that, (2) invoke the Taft-Hartley law's strike banning court injunction powers.

Ching reported in person to the White House, then followed up with written suggestions to Mr. Truman on how to handle Lewis from here on out.

"It is our considered judgment that further mediation at this time would be fruitless," Ching told reporters.

He declined to make his suggestions public. But it was reported Ching favored giving Lewis the same sort of special fact board, empowered to recommend settlement terms, as Mr. Truman established in the recent steel industry pension dispute.

May Propose It Today

The president may publicly propose such a board at his news conference tomorrow with a proviso that Lewis postpone strike action for at least 60 days.

Lewis has expressed doubt that any such board could help settle the tightly knotted argument. But the miners boss said in New York last week that "the mine workers will attend under the authority of the (union) policy committee, any conference that may be convened within the policy of the (union) organization that will lead to a constructive solution of the problem."

Thus Lewis may call his policy committee together if fact finding is proposed.

Ching was reported to have told the White House that the only alternative to the special fact finding board plan is use of the Taft-Hartley law.

Conviction Of 3 Set Aside Because

Witness Is Gunman

Freeport, Ill., Nov. 16—(AP)—A jury's conviction of three negroes was set aside today by a federal judge because, he said, the government's star witness in the trial is a "known gunman."

Judge Elwyn R. Shaw voided the verdict returned last night and set the men free. They had been charged with passing counterfeit money.

The judge called Jesse McCready, 42, negro, of 2029 Federal street, Chicago, "a known gunman and a dangerous, undesirable citizen."

McCready, one of the group originally accused, had been promised immunity by the prosecution for testifying against his friends.

Those freed are Floyd Dawson, Jr., 22, of 411 West Oak street, Chicago; Rogers Clark, 42, of 2029 Federal street, Chicago; and Chester Stubblefield, 23, of 1832 South Wabash avenue, Chicago.

"The case stands on the testimony of McCready, and no one should be convicted on that sort of testimony," Judge Shaw said. "I couldn't live with my conscience the rest of my life if I sent these men to prison."

Errol Flynn And Romanian Princess Will Be Married

London, Nov. 16—(AP)—Errol Flynn, veteran of swashbuckling movie roles, and Irene Ghica, a real-life Romanian princess who models clothes for a living, talked over wedding plans here tonight.

The Irish actor announced he'll soon wed the princess, who has a chateau behind the iron curtain—lives in Paris or London. The exact date is still to be set.

She is 20 years old, red slim, with slate blue eyes, a broad mouth and a French-Romanian accent thick enough to slice with a cutlass.

Stevenson Asks Anew For Gas Tax Increase

Chicago, Nov. 16—(AP)—Governor Stevenson declared tonight he will go on asking for a state gasoline tax increase "until we get it, or the people get a new governor."

Stevenson told the Illinois Agricultural association's annual convention that the state's No. 1 problem in the years immediately ahead is the "necessity of restoring our worn out system of highways."

A gas tax boost is needed, he said, because the hard roads are "all wearing out at the same time" and present income is "entirely inadequate" to make improvements.

The 1949 legislature defeated a proposal backed by Stevenson to

CAA Bans Military Aircraft From Capital's Airport

Washington, Nov. 16—(AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Administrator today banned all combat-type aircraft from Washington National airport.

D. W. Rentzell, CAA chief, announced in a statement that the action was taken "because of the increasing congestion" at the capital's only major civilian landing field.

The restriction does not apply to military transport planes such as those operated by the military air transport service.

Rentzell's decision was announced in identical letters to Maj. Gen. Laurence S. Kuter, commanding general of mats, and Vice Admiral C. T. Durgin, deputy chief of naval operations for air.

A CAA spokesman said the ban applies equally to combat type planes converted for civilian use and owned and operated by civilians.

It was such a plane, a modified P-38 Lockheed Lightning, flown by the Bolivian Director General of civil aviation, Erick Rios Brixoux, which crashed into an eastern airfield on Nov. 1, killing 55 persons.

Illinois Light Co. Issues 12 Million

In Mortgage Bonds

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 16—(AP)—Directors of the Central Illinois Light company today authorized issuance and sale of $12,500,000 in 30-year first mortgage bonds.

Proceeds will be used in the financing of a three year expansion program to cost $18,800,000.

J. A. Longley, president of the utility, said that a petition will be filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission for approval and that a registration statement will be filed Friday with the Security and Exchange Commission.

It is expected, Longley said, that bids for the bond issue will be opened Dec. 14 at the offices of Commonwealth Services, Inc., 20 Pine St., New York City.

Part of the new issue will be used to refund $7,378,000 of outstanding 3 1/2 per cent bonds due in 1956 which will be called at 104 1/4 ($104.875 for $100 par value).

A short term bank loan of $2,200,000 already incurred to finance construction will be repaid from the new bond proceeds.

Turks Smash Plot To Assassinate President Inonu

Ankara, Turkey, Nov. 16—(AP)—The Turkish government announced tonight it had smashed a plot to assassinate President Ismet Inonu.

The announcement said three members of the opposition nation's party are under arrest and police are searching the homes of other members of the strongly nationalistic party.

Informants said the plot also marked for death Celal Bayar, leader of the pro-government Democratic party.

A communique issued by Premier Shemseddin Gunalayir said: "The deputy from Denizli, Reshat Aydinli, informed the government that Sadik Adigoren, the deputy from Afyon Karahisar of the Nation's party, Osman Bolukbasi, and Fikret Arna had decided to assassinate the president of the republic, Reshat Aydinli, added that they had asked him to join them. The Ankara prosecution has opened an investigation."

It will be the third marriage for 38-year-old Flynn. Divorces ended his earlier ties—with French actress Lili Damita and red-haired Nora Eddington.

Flynn brought his prospective bride to suburban Elstree, where finishing touches are being put on the program to go with the royal film show in London tomorrow.

Flynn's prospective bride, the Romanian princess, is being put on the program to go with the royal film show in London tomorrow.

U.S. Protests To Nationalist China In Shelling Of Ship

Washington, Nov. 16—(AP)—The United States dispatched a swift protest to Nationalist China today on yesterday's shelling of the American Merchant vessel flying cloud off Shanghai.

Secretary of State Acheson, announcing this at a news conference, struck out even more heatedly at the Chinese Communists. He declared that any consideration of American recognition of their regime is out of the question now because of their imprisonment of Americans.

Illinois News Briefs

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 16—(AP)—Jerry Hood, 21, of Downs, Ill., who pleaded guilty two weeks ago to transporting a stolen car across state lines, was placed on probation today for three years by Federal Judge Charles C. Briggie.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 16—(AP)—George W. Schwane Jr., of Springfield, resigned today as superintendent of parole in the state division of correction, effective Dec. 10.

Schwane, a Republican, was appointed to the job in 1944. He served as executive secretary to Illinois House speaker Hugh Green that same year.

Canton, Ill., Nov. 16—(AP)—A gas blast in the International Harvester company forge shop shook a large segment of Canton today.

No one was injured, but considerable damage was done in the shop. Officials said about 100 employees will have to be laid off for a week until the forge furnaces and the air blast system is repaired.

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. 16—(AP)—A team of scared horses fatally injured a 68-year-old Makanda farmer late yesterday.

Simon Canada was found lying in a road near Giant City State Park. He told a neighbor that the team apparently became scared as he climbed onto a wagon and that he was dragged when the horses bolted. Canada died in a hospital here last night.

St. Louis, Nov. 16—(AP)—Mrs. Carlton S. Hadley modeled her wedding dress today for a small group of women friends. No one else was allowed to see her well-guarded trousseau.

The general public probably won't learn what it looks like until a description is given out half an hour before her marriage to Vice President Alben W. Barkley at 11 a.m. (CST) Friday.

The specially designed gown and the rest of her outfit, was displayed by Mrs. Hadley at the home of T. M. Sayman.

After the showing, Mrs. Hadley busied herself with the little chores that precede any marriage. Tomorrow she is going to a hair-dresser.

The day promises to be a long one, climaxed by a church rehearsal at 10 p.m. tomorrow. The bride's mother, Mrs. William Rucker of West Palm Beach, Fla., and her daughter, Anne, a college student in New Orleans, are expected to arrive tomorrow.

Others who will arrive tomorrow include Mrs. Hadley's brother, William Rucker of West Palm Beach, Fla., and her daughter, Anne, a college student in New Orleans, are expected to arrive tomorrow.

Vishinsky Says End Of Cold War Possible

B-29 With 20 Aboard Missing Off Bermuda

Hamilton, Bermuda, Nov. 16—(AP)—A B-29 plane with 20 men aboard apparently crashed landed into the sea off the Bermuda coast today, and hours later rescue planes and surface craft reported no trace of the air giant.

One unofficial report here said high ranking officers of the U.S. Air Force were aboard the craft, which was en route from California to Britain.

At dawn tomorrow more than 80 planes will search over 75,000 square miles of ocean for the plane—probably the largest air hunt in history. Before dark 23 planes were in the air and during the night 10 planes dived over the seas looking for some sign from the survivors of the plane.

One factor complicating the search was that no one knew a specific area in which to look for the plane. It was believed down 150 miles either southwest or northeast of Bermuda.

It had been due in Bermuda at 8:10 a.m. (6:10 a.m. C.S.T.) thirty minutes later the pilot radioed Kindley Field he had enough gasoline for two hours.

The last contact with the plane was at 11:45 a.m. The pilot said he was "lost" because a major part of his radio equipment was out of order and weather conditions were such that he couldn't take any readings on his position.

Then he added he was "going to ditch" in five minutes.

Four planes were dispatched immediately from the U.S. air force base at Kindley Field here to guide the B-29 in. When they failed to find the plane a general alarm was sent out.

The Coast Guard cutter Bibb picked up weak SOS calls. It sent four amphibian planes to join the search and alerted its eastern seaboard stations.

In addition to the 23 planes already looking for the superfortress another 10 planes from McDill Airbase, Tampa, Fla., will join the hunt.

Buffalo already is campaigning and is regarded as virtually certain to win renomination. Lausche would have stood a good chance to win the democratic nomination.

Governor Lausche's telegram referred to an unusual incident last spring, in which Lausche departed from his prepared text in a speech at Ohio Wesleyan university. Senator Taft was sitting on the same platform. Lausche turned to Taft and inserted these impromptu words:

"x x x it probably should be considered today that we ought not to engage in any controversy in any way."

Truman Approves Planning Loans In Housing Grants

Washington, Nov. 16—(AP)—President Truman has started the government's far reaching new program of loans and grants for public housing by approving $20,375,400 of planning loans to local housing authorities in 108 localities.

Announcing this today, John Taylor Egan, the public housing commissioner, said the president's action would enable the local authorities to take the first concrete steps toward building "good new homes" for about half a million persons in low income families.

The loans provide for surveys and planning work for 134,500 low rent homes. The projects involved form the vanguard of the 810,000 public housing units which congress recently authorized to be constructed over a six-year period.

"The public housing administration has reserved funds for about 100 additional local housing authorities that intend to take part in the first two years of the public housing program," Egan's announcement said.

Philadelphia, Nov. 16—(AP)—The state, yielding to a high court ruling, today discarded its chief weapon—a suicide note—as evidence in Philadelphia tax theft trials, but said prosecution of the accused will go on anyway.

It was forced to revise its course following a decision by the state superior court yesterday invalidating the note as evidence in the investigation of municipal scandals.

Raymond V. John, assistant district attorney, said the commonwealth will retry one of the defendants, Dominic Antonini, former city employee, without benefit of the note.

He said the state also will press its cases against three other former city employees whose names together with Antonini's, appeared in the note.

The note was written by the late William C. Foss, former chief of the amusement tax division, who hanged himself in May, 1948. It implicated Antonini and another man as having received some of the embezzled amusement tax money.

Does Not Say How It Could Be Done

Lake Success, Nov. 16—(AP)—Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky said today it is possible to find a common ground for cooperation between east and west, but he did not tell how it could be done.

The Soviet foreign minister made this statement in the midst of a long assault on the United States and Britain. He spoke in the 59-nation political committee of the U.N. assembly.

The committee is debating Vishinsky's proposal for a big power peace pact and an American-British counter proposal for reaffirmation of the U.N. charter's principles for peace.

Cooperation Possible

Vishinsky said "it is possible to find a common ground for cooperation" despite the fact that the opposing sides represented the worlds of capitalism and Marxism.

He said capitalist countries before have had the idea of world domination and have failed. Then he went back to hitting the western position and said nothing more about cooperation.

Western delegates studied the Russian speech carefully. Soviet representatives have a habit of slipping some change of pace into such an isolated sentence in the middle of an attack on the west. But the first reaction was that the cold war still is on and Vishinsky perhaps was just feeling out the west on the possible extent of cooperation.

Buffalo Gets 16 Inches Of Snow As Winter Sets In

A heavy snow storm snarled traffic and disrupted plane schedules in Buffalo, N. Y., Wednesday and dumped a white blanket along the northern fringes of the midwest.

Temperatures mired above the freezing mark during the day, however, turning much of the snow into a sea of slush.

Buffalo was hit by the heaviest November snowfall in its history. It measured 16 inches. Between seven and 12 inches still remained on the ground at noon. The previous record November fall was 14.8 inches was recorded 29 years ago.

Pelston, Mich., was coated with a nine inch snowfall. Marquette, Mich., had eight inches. Snow also fell in parts of Minnesota, and northern Illinois, Iowa and Indiana.

No severe cold was in sight for any parts of the country, but the weather was chilly in the midwest and south. Birmingham, Ala., had a low reading of 33; Corbin, Ky., 26; Evansville, Ind., 29, and Vicksburg, Miss., 35.

Minor Violence Erupts As Seamen Crowd CIO Office

New York, Nov. 16—(AP)—Hundreds of seamen milled in a jostling, shouting throng in and around the CIO National Maritime union headquarters today in a factional row that erupted into minor violence and threatened more trouble later.

Firefights broke out. A man was hauled bodily from a telephone booth. A newspaper photographer was rushed. A right-wing union official was rescued by police from a crowd of about 300.

Adrian Duffy, vice president of the NMU, was slugged and cut about the head while police struggled to hold back insurgent left-wingers, angry over suspension of several of their number from union posts.

Seaman Jack Smith, 29, and Leo Silverman, 28, were arrested and charged with assaulting Duffy.

"We'll get you tomorrow, Duffy," others yelled at the union official. Another right wing union member, Joseph Moutal, was treated at St. Vincent's hospital for bruises. He said he was kicked in the head by five men.

DISCLOSE ARRESTS

Warsaw, Poland, Nov. 16—(AP)—President Boleslaw Bierut has disclosed the arrest of spies, saboteurs and terrorists in a drive to wipe out an "entire underground army" in Communist-led Poland.

The report on widespread opposition to the Red government was made in a speech last week to the central committee of the ruling Communist party and published in detail yesterday in the nation's press.

Town Threatened As Gas Storage Tanks Catch Fire

Union, Mo., Nov. 16—(AP)—Eight tanks were destroyed today by a large gasoline and fuel oil storage fire which threatened for a time to spread to a nearby business and residential area.

Several of the big tanks exploded with a muffled roar.

No one was injured in the spectacular blaze, which attracted a crowd estimated at 1,500. Police kept the spectators at a safe distance.

The blaze was brought under control about 2:45 p.m. (CST), two hours after the first alarm was sounded. Several nearby communities sent fire-fighting equipment.

Authorities were unable to say how the fire started, and no estimate of the damage was available. Despite a strong wind which hampered firemen, several other large fuel storage tanks were saved.

This town of 3,000 is located about 50 miles southwest of St. Louis.

Two Killed As Car Hits Abutment

Greencastle, Ind., Nov. 16—(AP)—Two men were killed this afternoon when an automobile ran off road 40 feet from Mount Meridian and crashed into a bridge abutment.

Charles McCurtiv, Greencastle undertaker, said papers found on the body of one man bore the name of William Grecoff. They gave his age as 29 and his address as 1931 North Center street, Terre Haute.

McCurtiv said a paper found on the body of the other man bore the name of Noble Hanniff and gave his address as "General Delivery," Benton, Ill.

The place where the accident occurred is about five miles southeast of Greencastle.

THERE OUGHT TO BE A LAW!

It has become a custom in this country to urge passing of a law or an appropriation as a means of solving society's problems. Despite the fact that the number of laws and the totals of appropriations have gone steadily upward, the problems of society have continued to mount.

The first session of Congress considered 2,055 bills and enacted 971 of them into law at the last session of the General Assembly.

Virtually every lawmaking body in the land considered more bills and enacted more laws in 1949 than it did in 1947. Congress and the states together considered 85,365 bills and enacted 28,515 of them. Business and the general public will have to conduct their affairs under the guidance of these new laws. The 1949 totals compare with 73,310 introduced and 25,109 passed in 1947. The figures may change slightly since the Missouri legislature was still in session when these figures were compiled.

But the important thing is that the 25,109 laws enacted in 1947 and the 28,515 enacted in 1949 have not solved the problems confronting people. Neither have they increased appropriations at both state and national levels.

That fact ought to begin to impress people. They ought to begin to realize that many problems are not solved by passage of a law or an appropriation in the state or national legislative body. Problems are solved by facing them at the source. Usually that means at the family and community levels. If they were attacked there in earnest, fewer laws would be enacted in Springfield and Washington.

Lobar Pneumonia Often Develops If Condition Low

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.
Written for NEA Service
Lobar pneumonia—which is the most common of the pneumonias—is caused by a germ called the pneumococcus. The disease is more likely to develop when the body has become weakened by disease, poor nutrition, or old age. Germs can be breathed in large quantities from someone else who is harboring them.

A typical case of lobar pneumonia starts suddenly with a severe chill which may last for as long as half an hour. Soon after the chill, the temperature begins to go up and it rises rapidly to around 104 or 105 degrees. At the same time a person coming down with pneumonia may have general aches and pains with headache. Pain in the chest or side like that which is present in pleurisy, is also common. Cough which produces pain and does not bring up much mucus starts early. The breathing becomes rapid and each breath is shallow.

Typical Signs Develop
Unless steps have been taken to treat the condition promptly, the typical signs develop by the second or third day. By this time cold sores around the lips are likely to be present, the facial expression shows anxiety, the pain in the side or chest is severe and the breathing is rapid. Cough brings up a fair amount of sputum which is likely to be tinged with blood. The temperature stays high, at 104 or 105.

Now there is only one chance in 20 or 25 of dying from the disease instead of one chance in three. Lobar pneumonia has dropped from being one of the most important causes of death to being one of the least important of the major diseases. Of course, diagnosis must be made early and treatment started promptly, because the results of treatment are never so good in the person who has been ill for several days.

Note: Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

The Doctor Answers:
Question: The soles of my feet constantly burn like fire. What causes this?
Answer: Is there some infection present? If not, the cause may have to be sought in the nervous system or in the circulation.

Subsurface Plows Advocated To Stop Soil Erosion

Lubbock, Tex.—(P)—Ploughs that work only underneath the surface are advocated to stop soil erosion by Dr. A. W. Young, head of the plant industry department of Texas Technological College.

These plows have chisel noses and underground blades to cut the subsoil on each side. They leave in place the stubble of previous crops. Every bit of stubble or any other crop residue left with its roots in a field, says Dr. Young, is both a natural wind break and a water dam.

The stubble binds the top soil from blowing away as dust, and from eroding in water. The stubble also furnishes little pipes down which rain water penetrates into the soil, instead of mostly running off the surface. As the stubble decomposes, it furnishes a sort of binding cement to hold soil particles more firmly in place.

The Horse That Went To A Psychiatrist

By Hal Boyle
New York.—(P)—Down the street came a horse—trotting sideways. In the saddle rode Gilbert Warb looking very uncomfortable. For he was trailed by a crowd of hotting small boys attracted by the strange sight of a horse that ambled sideways.

"Giddyap, Pegasus!" said Gilbert to his doleful steed.

Pegasus side-stepped up and halted at a building that bore the sign: "Dr. Ambrose Withers, Animal Psychologist."

Warb dismounted and rang the bell. The door opened.

"What can I do for you?" said Dr. Withers. He was a old, rawboned man with a long face, hair like a mane and huge buck teeth.

"Well, I feel a little silly about this," said Gilbert. He fished out a newspaper clipping and showed it to the doctor. The clipping said: "London veterinarian says neurotic animals need psychological treatment just like humans."

Dr. Withers nodded his head professionally.

"Very true," he said. "Just what are your horse's neurotic symptoms?"

"Well," said Gilbert. "I bought him for $200 at an auction as a saddle horse for my wife. But the darn fool won't run like any other horse—he will only run sideways."

"H-mmm, refusal to face life," murmured the doctor. "Come into my office."

They led Pegasus inside. After o'clock he insisted on coming into the living room, plopping down on the sofa and telling her troubles to his wife for an hour.

He began to neigh in his ear. "And I want to know what you're 'Is it anything serious?' asked going to do about it."

First National Kid's Day Set For Saturday

Editors note:

Plans for National Kids Day Nov. 19 were discussed by sponsors at a special news conference at which kids acted as reporters in place of their newsmen fathers. Here is the report written by David Kramp, 13, an eighth grade pupil, who "covered" it for The Associated Press.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—(P)—There's a Mother's Day and a Father's Day and now there's going to be a Kids' Day.

National Kids' Day will be held in succeeding years on the third Saturday in November. That means he won't get out of school for it, but it may be changed to a school day later.

National Kids' Day is sponsored by Kiwanis International and the National Kids' Day foundation.

Plans for Kids' Day were announced last night at a press conference. Kid reporters covered it and wrote their own stories about it.

Special movies, parades, radio programs, football games, pancake fairs and other special events will be held in some cities on national Kids' Day for the benefit of underprivileged children.

The purposes of National Kids' Day are: To put attention upon the accomplishments of youth; to seek additional interests from the public to combat juvenile delinquency and to help its victims to become useful citizens; and to help underprivileged children by giving them a chance to enjoy some of the benefits more fortunate boys and girls have.

WHEN YOU FEEL WEAK AS A CAT

If you have that good-for-nothing feeling, like you are half-sick and half-well, and your nerve energy is weak and low, the chances are it is due to one thing; doctors call it:

BLOOD POVERTY
Your blood cells may be fagged-out or shrunken, and you might not realize it. Even if you eat the "best" foods you may not be getting all the good out of your meals simply because you have SLOW digestion, without knowing it (or gassy stomach) and as a result you are a victim of Blood Poverty! In other words, your blood is not getting the fullest good out of what you eat. So your blood-cells become worn-down and you have only half as much energy as you really need, you get up in the mornings still tired, and your nerves become dull.

Hundreds here in Jacksonville suffered with "faded-out" blood and stomach gas until they got CERTA-VIN. This is the new medicine containing 12 Herbs blended with Vitamin B and Iron; you take it before meals and it works with your food. Benefit comes quickly. Your food digests FASTER, with less gassiness, and you get more good out of your meals. In a few days your blood is energized with new red cells, and your nerves become stronger. Weak rundown people tell us they soon feel different all over. And best of all, our price on CERTA-VIN is reasonable. You can actually take this New, modern medicine for only a Few Cents a Day! So don't go on feeling half-sick and half-well. Get Cert-Vin—MACE'S DRUG STORE, 16 W. Side of Square. (Adv.)

Every one of them "tears a rent, however small, in the history of our country," he claimed.

Four Morgan 4-H Club Leaders To Be Honored

Arrange Program For Men-Boys' Banquet Friday

The fall men and boys' banquet, which will be held at State Street Presbyterian church on Friday at 6:30 p.m., will once again prove that fun, fellowship, eats and entertainment galore will be on hand for all who attend. The ladies of the church will prepare a sumptuous turkey dinner with all the trimmings and the meal is scheduled to get underway at the appointed hour.

All men of the church are invited to attend and to bring their sons with them. Men who have no children have been or will be assigned youngsters who will be waiting at the church for their "parents" of the night.

Group singing through an organ-logic film will follow the meal and then a cartoon and an Abbott and Costello film will be shown. The men and boys will gather in the main meeting hall where they will be entertained by Ricardo, the Magician. Ricardo is a well-known artist who has seen much service during the recent war when he helped to entertain the men in the front lines. Carl E. Robinson is chairman of the evening's program and any and all men who are interested in attending are urged to make reservations with him. The ladies are preparing for 150 meals.

VICKS VA-TRO-NOI

Four local 4-H club leaders have been selected to represent Morgan county at the 4th annual 4-H leaders' recognition day and banquet at the Hotel Lincoln in Springfield on November 22. They are Mrs. Charles Brainer, Jacksonville; Mrs. Lester Seals, Waverly; Ralph Dahman, Franklin, and Elfred Detmer, Chapin.

These local volunteer leaders have been selected to represent the 25 4-H leaders in Morgan county at the special program. They are being honored for their loyal efforts in behalf of rural youth people and their years of service without pay in the interest of helping develop better farmers and homemakers.

Expect 385 Attendance
Last year, 385 local leaders were registered for the event, and at least as many are expected to attend from all counties of the state this year. Two agricultural club leaders, two home economics club leaders and one extension worker in each county have been invited. Registry will be in the lobby of the Hotel Lincoln. E. H. Garlich, farm adviser, will represent Morgan county and Mrs. Francis S. King, home adviser, will represent Scott county as extension workers. The Scott county home economics 4-H leaders who are attending are Mrs. Oscar Yates, Winchester, and Mrs. Harry Reuter, Winchester.

A tour of the Pillsbury Mills in Springfield has been arranged to open the day's activities for the early arrivals. The tour is scheduled from 10:30 a.m. until 12 noon.

During the afternoon, from 1:30 until 5 o'clock the leaders and guests will be conducted on tours of the State Historical Museum, the State Capitol building, and Lincoln's home and tomb. Following a social hour from 5 until 6 o'clock, the banquet dinner will be served.

Attorney To Speak
H. Roe Bartle, Kansas City attorney, a leader of civic and young people's activities there, will be the guest speaker for the evening. Musical numbers during the dinner will be furnished by the Pearl Kemp orchestra.

The event this year has been planned to follow closely after National 4-H Achievement Week so that the local volunteer 4-H club leaders can share in the public acclaim given the young people for their accomplishments. There are approximately 6,800 local volunteer leaders helping to direct the activities and projects of more than 53,000 Illinois 4-H club members this year.

There will be many leading representatives of business and industry and state extension workers attending the meeting to help honor the volunteer leaders. The event is sponsored by the joint 4-H staff, the Illinois Agricultural association, the Illinois Home Bureau federation, and the Illinois Chain Store council.

Report On C.I.O. Convention Given At Union Meeting

A report of the C.I.O. convention in Cleveland, Ohio, was presented at the regular meeting of Local 199, Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, held Tuesday night in the Amalgamated hall, with a large group of members in attendance.

The report was given by Louis Nierman, business manager, who attended the convention. Mr. Nierman also spoke regarding the 75c minimum wage law recently signed by President Truman, which will go into effect on or about Feb. 1.

Speaking in behalf of the Community Chest, Mr. Nierman urged the members to be liberal in their donations and stated that it should be the interest of very person in the community to see that the goal is reached so that the agencies which are supported by the chest may continue to function as they have in the past.

Name Alexander Man Chairman Of CROP For Morgan County

Carlos McDaniel Elected Chairman By County Board

Commissioner Carlos E. McDaniel of Chapin was elected chairman of the Morgan county board of commissioners Wednesday morning when the board held a reorganization meeting after the Nov. 8 election. The board assumed a Democratic majority at that time when Virgil Wegehoff of the Concord precinct was elected as a member.

Mr. Wegehoff was sworn in last week at the county clerk's office and took his seat as a board member Wednesday. The commissioners passed on routine bills and transacted other business.

Commissioners McDaniel and Wegehoff are Democrats, and Commissioner Clarke Stevenson is a Republican.

E. P. Hohmann of Alexander was elected Morgan county chairman of the Christian Rural Overseas Program at a meeting held Tuesday night in Farm Bureau hall, at which plans were formulated for the county's participation in this church-sponsored plan to aid the destitute of Europe and Asia.

The Christian Rural Overseas Program, or CROP, as it is more widely known, is the largest relief agency in the world. Christian in character, its primary function is to relieve the suffering of those in war-ravaged countries.

The sponsoring agencies are Catholic Rural Life, Church World Service which represents 22 Protestant denominations, and Lutheran World Relief which represents several synods of the United Lutheran Church of America.

It is primarily a rural program, giving the farmers in this country an opportunity to share their abundance with others less fortunate.

Sent Via Friendship Train
The products are shipped via the Abraham Lincoln Friendship Train to a coastal port, from where they are sent overseas. The charges for shipping the products abroad are handled by the government.

Arriving overseas, the products are in the charge of a central committee comprised of representatives of the three agencies.

This committee decides priority and distributes the food according to need, regardless of race or creed. The entire procedure is in the hands of persons connected with CROP and the CROP emblem remains on the products as a source of identification for the contributing agency.

The products are distributed to orphanages, institutions for the aged and ill, camps for displaced persons and refugees.

Safe Arrival Assured
The safe arrival of all products sent through CROP is assured. Last year, 99.7 per cent of the products shipped arrived safely; the remaining 3 per cent was covered by insurance and was replaced.

CROP is active in 32 states, chiefly those which are predominantly agricultural. There is a national committee composed of representatives of the sponsoring agencies. A similar organization exists in each state and county.

In Morgan county the committee is comprised of Rev. Father Michael Kearns of Franklin, the Catholic representative; Rev. Vincent Van Horn of Murrayville, World Service; and Rev. Wilbur Allen of Jacksonville, Lutheran.

Set County Goal
A goal is established for each state and then broken down into county goals. Illinois has a goal of 250 cars. Morgan county's share is to be three carloads of soybeans and two carloads of corn. The goal is suggested on the basis of population and agricultural wealth of the county.

At the meeting Tuesday night, Chairman Hohmann announced that the contributions received in Morgan county would be converted into cash in order to save shipping costs, thus enabling the county to actually send more food by buying it at the point of departure.

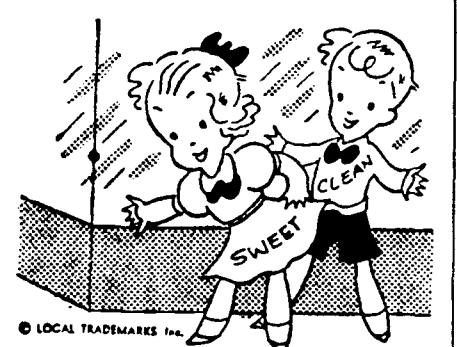

The meeting was opened by Chester Thomason, who then introduced Rev. Robert Pitsch of Concord, district supervisor, who presided over the meeting.

A film entitled "Operation Mercy" was shown, followed by the election of officers, during which Mr. Hohmann was named chairman and Allan Wegehoff secretary. Other officers and chairmen for the townships will be appointed.

50 Engineers Attend
District ConferenceNew York Stock Market

New York, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Automobile shares powered a broad advance in the stock market today.

Gains ranged from fractions to a point or more.

Buying interest suddenly expanded in mid-morning. Trading increased rapidly and some of the day's best prices were reached then.

The rise followed a two-day setback during which the market value of all stocks listed on the exchange was dropped by around $1,000,000,000.

Selective demand appeared for railway bonds.

CHICAGO GRAINS
GIVE UP GROUND

Chicago, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Grains gave up a little ground on the Board of Trade today. Selling pressure became quite heavy at times, but there were enough resting orders in the market to hold declines to fractions in most cases.

Rye suffered widest losses, December and May slumping to new season lows. Large supplies of Canadian rye held in bond here discourage holders of rye futures.

This grain also weakened at Winnipeg. Deferred corn futures fell around a cent on profit-taking.

Receipts were: wheat 3 cars; corn 163; oats 14; rye none; barley 26; soybeans 55.

Wheat closed 1/2 lower to 1 higher.
December $2.09 1/2; corn was 1 cent lower to higher, December $1.20 1/2; oats were 1/8 lower, December 74-74 1/2; rye was 2 1/2 lower, December $1.30 1/2; soybeans were 1/2 lower to 1 higher, November $22 1/2; and land was unchanged to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher, November $9.30.

Veterans With 50% Disabilities Can Claim Allowance

Veterans with service-connected disabilities of 50 per cent must submit proof of relationship and dependency in order to qualify for dependency allowances on Dec. 1, the Illinois Veterans commission warned.

Previously dependency allowances were granted to those with 60 per cent or more disability. A new law recently enacted by congress makes those between 50 and 60 per cent now eligible.

In order to qualify for dependency allowances, a veteran must submit the usual proof of relationship, such as marriages and birth records.

Monthly awards for dependency in the 50 per cent class are: wife alone, $10.50; wife and one child, $17.50;
wife and two children, $22.75; wife and three or more children, $28;
one child (no wife), $7; two children, $12.25; three or more children, $17.50; one dependent parent, $8.75,
and two dependent parents, $17.50.

Service officers of the Illinois Veterans commission have been advised of the new regulations and are ready to assist veterans in meeting the Dec. 1 deadline.

In Morgan and Scott counties veterans can receive assistance at the IVC office located at 6-7 Morrison block in Jacksonville, or on Wednesdays at the court house in Winchester.

Pheasant, Quail
Hunting Better Than Average

Chicago, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Illinois sportsmen have taken better than average bags of pheasant and quail since opening of the upland game season last Friday noon.

Rain and fog discouraged some pheasant hunters in the northern part of the state. But those who braved the weather found plenty of game.

In all parts of the state there were heavy kills of rabbit.

Lots of limit (10) kills of quail were reported in southern Illinois.

The quail supply is better than usual. Biggest drawback was the weather: too warm for dogs. Another complaint was the birds refused to hold.

The same bluebird weather (dry and warm) has cut the kill of ducks and geese.

Paul Upstone, 15, of Rockford, started the season with better than average luck: He got his limit of two birds and killed a red fox for a $5 bounty.

Sam Berchillon of Rockford also made the season pay off: He found a shiny dime in a pheasant he shot.

Many types of moss have "teeth" which close on damp days and permit spores to escape only in dry weather when they can be blown about by the wind.

Mistake Claimed
In Identification
Of Crash Victim

Paris, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Funeral services for concert violinist Ginette Neveu have been postponed indefinitely because, her brother Roger said, the body his family received was not hers.

She was killed in a plane crash on November 14, which took the lives of 48 persons including the French boxer, Marcel Cerdan.

Miss Neveu's brother said the body his family received in the coffin flowed back from the island by air France—owners of the plane which crashed—was that of a woman with long fingernails.

"Everyone knows," Neveu said,
"that a violinist must have short ones."

Coach Spike Wilson Launches Tiger Basketball Drills

Baseball's Best Brains Get Together To Make Simplified Rule Book

Cincinnati, Nov. 16.—(AP)—You'll hardly recognize the baseball rule book next spring!

A 12-man committee, composed of some of the game's best brains, started today on the final draft of the simplified and recodified regulations for the national pastime.

George M. Trautman, prexy of the minors and chairman of the committee, declared:

"We'll be here until late Thursday night, after a short break for the Major league draft meeting Thursday morning. We may be here

Beardstown Opens Basketball Card Against Pittsfield

Beardstown — Veteran of eleven basketball seasons at Beardstown high school, Coach Nick Carter launched his Tiger cage aspirants into intensive drills Tuesday afternoon. The river-gang opens the season Nov. 29, playing host to this sector's championship Pittsfield quintet.

Carter broke even on the letterman situation. He lost four mainstays who carried the Tigers to a 13-12 mark last season, second place in the Rushville regional tournament and third spot in the Central conference. However, a quartet of vets return to brighten the Beardstown hardwood picture.

The four returnees are Bob Yost, John Best, Dick Moore and Dale Lovekamp, all seniors. Besides these varsity men Carter will pin his hopes on six footers Dick Hagener, J. Peterson and J. Klokner, plus Clarence Inougie, Dick Krahe, H. Klokner, Don Elam and John Steele.

until Christmas, for we're going to have these new rules ready by spring training season."

The committee started reading the new rules early today, and as dusk fell the group had put the official stamp on 17 pages of the 66-page rough draft compiled after a year of debate.

You'd never guess the first rule in the new book.

On the first page, under the heading of "official rules of the game of baseball" and a sub-head of "objectives of the game," the first item is:

"The object of each team is to win by scoring the more runs."

Robert L. Finch, publicity director of the minors and secretary of the committee, said it had always been understood that the team getting the larger run total was the winner, but that somehow the former writers of the rules had neglected to jot that fact down.

Another old baseball idea also goes out the window. For the last hundred years a ball delivered fairly by the pitcher and passing over the plate between a batter's knees and his shoulders was a strike.

The new strike zone is defined as the space over the plate between the batter's knees and his armpits, when the batter assumes his customary batting stance.

"We've been talking shoulders and knees for a century," Trautman said. "But now we've really got that zone defined."

National League Umpire Bill Stewart, who got a bit of ribbing a couple of years ago when accused of missing Cleveland's pick-off play in the World Series with the Boston Braves, said:

"We should do something about those knees, too. You can't tell where a batter's knees are anymore, with all of 'em wearing those long pants reaching to their ankles. I think the old ball players, who rolled their pants around the knees, looked better, too."

Commissioner A. B. "Happy" Chandler prepared a stickler for the "no gambling in baseball" edict. A rule was read under which the home team of a game played on a neutral diamond shall be determined by lot, and the commissioner declared:

"Let's not advertise lotteries. Let's get that lot out of there, or people will be writing me letters." The rule was changed and if the league presidents can't agree on the home club, Chandler or Trautman will decide.

At least a half hour was consumed on whether an outfielder "shall" or "must" retain possession of a fly ball to establish validity of a catch. The umpires held out for "must," some of the others decided "shall" was correct—and the decision was held in abeyance.

Other new rules approved decreed that bats must be of solid wood, in one piece, ruling out metal-loaded, plastic or laminated clubs, and limited the type of glove a first-baseman may use.

Members of the rules committee attending the session are: Chandler, Trautman, Finch, Stewart, Tom Connolly, American League umpire; Walter Mulberry, secretary of baseball; Warren Giles, general manager of the Cincinnati Reds; Frank Shaughnessy, president of the International league; James T. Gallagher, general manager of the Chicago Cubs; Bill Summers, American League umpire; Joe Cronin, general manager of the Boston Red Sox; and Branch Rickey, Jr., assistant general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, substituting for his father.

Battleship ran in the 1930 Flamingo at Hialeah before being converted to a jumper and shipped to England to win the Grand National.

Purdue is the oldest rival on the 1949 Notre Dame football schedule, having first engaged the Irish in 1896.

ALL-STAR GRIDDERS, COACH

Glenn Smith (center) has established an enviable football record during his six year tenure at Pittsfield high school. Though his '49 eleven fell slightly under the mark established by five preceding outfits, the Saukees managed to find enough punch to pull into second place behind Jerseyville in the Illinois Valley conference.

Shown with Smith are his two All-Star ends, Rich Zimmerman (left) and Don Beard (right). Seniors, these two athletes are repeats to the All-Star selections. Zimmerman made the team as an end last year while Beard was an All-Star tackle.

Says Pro Football May Not Survive With Two Leagues

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 16.—(AP)—James F. Breuil, president of the Buffalo Bills of the All-American Football conference, declared today that professional football has "got to go" unless both major leagues survive the current impasse.

The break-up of what he termed the monopoly of the rival National league has been one of the greatest achievements of the four-year-old conference, Breuil said at a meeting of the Buffalo Quarter-Back club.

"I have not enjoyed one minute of contact I have had with the National league," Breuil declared.

Breuil's attack was touched off by the furore over the signing of George Ratterman, Buffalo quarterback, by the New York Bulldogs of the National league. Ratterman said yesterday that he had signed a four-year contract with Bulldog owner Ted Collins, effective next year.

Breuil said he was aware of Ratterman's commitment when he signed him for 1949, one game after the start of the season. He said he concluded the deal with Ratterman "knowing I could only make it for the balance of this season."

He reiterated his stand that he will do all possible to promote the future of the professional game, declaring:

"But unless there is survival of two competitive leagues, and no monopoly, it's got to go."

Joe Brooks, assistant basketball coach at Illinois College, greeted us with an exclusive "scoop" when we wandered out on the hill to view cage drills last night. "It's a seven and one-half pound boy," he shouted handing us a nickel cigar and fistful of peanuts. The Mrs. is doing nicely and right now the Brooks are debating whether to call the baby Danny Joe or Daniel Joseph. Whatever the name, Illinois College athletics are certain to benefit in 1967 if the kid's just half the football guard his old man was when he performed with the University of Illinois.

The wealth of basketball material that Al Miller is drilling these nights presents a problem when the Hilltop coaching staff starts weeding down to the ten men that they plan to carry to Kentucky Nov. 29. Miller, of course, has seven lettermen from last year's successful outfit that are sure to make the trip. But for the last three berths, he must choose between eight or nine athletes that all move in about the same type of basketball company.

If it comes to drawing straws there's a guy named O'Leary on the squad that can't miss. Luck of the Irish! He's from Chicago, too, but we haven't had a chance to ask him if his great-grandmother had a lantern-kicking bovine.

Apologies to Dick Hamann, new basketball coach at Carrollton high school. In our advance story we publicized "Buzz Bradley" — Hawk football tutor—as the cage teacher. "Buzz" has turned all basketball duties over to Hamann, his assistant for the past two years.

Football Briefs
Wildcats On Defense
Evanston, Ill., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Northwestern university's football squad went through a long defensive drill in the rain today as the Wildcats bore down in preparation for Saturday's invasion of Illinois.

Halfback Johnny Miller and End Bert Keddie, who were injured in practice last night, did not work out today, but they will be ready to play against the Illini.

Illini In Running Drill
Champaign, Ill., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Illinois' football varsity went through a long running drill against the freshman unit today as a bitter cold wind and mist swept the practice gridiron.

The Illini freshmen used Northwestern passing plays with Tom O'Connell and Jim Thurman alternating in the role of the Wildcats' Don Burson.

Leahy Praises Martin
South Bend, Ind., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Coach Frank Leahy of Notre Dame today praised the work of co-capt. Jim Martin, left tackle on offense and defense, who will be starting his thirty-second game Saturday when the Irish meet Iowa here.

"This is more games than any other player in Notre Dame football history has started," Coach Leahy said. "Martin has played 247 minutes this season, more than any other player on our squad."

Leahy said Martin's switch from end to tackle this season boosted Notre Dame's blocking power.

Leahy sent his squad through a long pass defense in anticipation that the Hawkeyes will take to the air Saturday.

Calls Twin Practice Sessions To Prepare For Opener At Waverly

Spike Wilson launched twin cage drills at I.S.D. Tuesday in hurried preparation for the Tiger five's seasons opener at Waverly on Nov. 29. The veteran westend mentor, besides holding practice sessions every afternoon, is working his boys for two hours in the evening.

Wilson has already split his squad into two groups. He is drilling juniors and seniors who will comprise the varsity squad while assistant Art Yates has taken over a large underclass group from which he will develop a reserve team.

Four stalwarts are lost by graduation off last year's PMBC conference championship outfit. Captain Billy Yates and his running mate at guard Stanley Kiwatt, leave those positions wide open to aspirants while reserve letter-winners Jake Early and Oliver Hoffman are also ineligible.

Leo Ceci Back
Returning to bolster I.S.D. basketball hopes is little Leo Ceci, high-scoring veteran forward who paced the Tiger offensive last year. Ceci, because he doesn't play football, got the jump on the gridiron warriors and has been working out for the past month. His one-handed shot is rapidly rounding into form and Wilson confided that his "eye looks better than ever."

Big Irvin Carlstedt is polishing up his court tactics after a rough season on the gridiron. He was a fixture on the Tiger varsity last season. Carlstedt had tough luck with his shots last year, but seems to be hitting the hoop with greater consistency, even in these early stages of the game.

Alta Hood, Ceci's forward, is back for his second year of varsity competition to round out the trio of returning starters.

Reserve Lettermen Back
To fill in the empty guard positions Wilson has Eddie Raffel, Homer Nunes and Gilbert Paul—all letter-winners. Carl Briggs, who was ineligible last season, is pushing for a starting position.

Other varsity aspirants include six-footers Doyle West and Jim Villani, plus Jerry Tuchman, Harvey White and John Hajdukiewicz.

The Tigers are signed to play in two tournaments besides the Regional. From Jan. 11-14 they will be in Louisiana, Mo., and from the 24-27 will play host to the annual PMBC conference meet.

The schedule is overloaded with home games this season, showing 12 contests in Jacksonville and eight on the road.

Old Stone Wall At Court House To Be Removed

The low stone wall on the east side of the court house grounds fell victim Wednesday to the loop paving improvement.

A bulldozer moved in on the solidly-built wall, breaking it and removing it in sections. The new sidewalk on the east side of the county building will be widened to cover the area now occupied by the wall.

County commissioners some time ago decided on the removal of the old wall at the time North West street was repaved and a new sidewalk put down. The area north of the east door of the court house already has been leveled off to permit the parking of several cars. The stone wall in front of the court house on West State street will be left intact, the ends being rounded off at the east and west boundaries of the county property.

The stone wall is believed to have been erected soon after the completion of the court house in 1868. For a number of years an iron fence was anchored in the stone foundation, but this was later removed. Holes in which the fence were anchored are visible in the stone sections now being removed.

County commissioners in deciding on the removal of the wall on the east side of the court house said it was hazardous in times of wet or icy weather, and that a number of persons have narrowly escaped injury by falling along the wall.

WHAT'S THIS? BROOME GRASS PLANTED IN 40 INCH ROWS!

By the Journal Courier Farm Editor

Ray Johnson, Jr., recently appointed soil conservation technician for Scott county, points to something new in this area: broome grass planted in rows, 40 inches apart.

The grass was planted on the contour in mid-August on some rolling acres on the Hunter Funk farm north of Winchester. It's growing good, will be cultivated once before freezing temperature takes over and promises a crop of seed in 1950.

The new procedure will be watched closely by west central Illinois farmers, especially if corn and wheat acreage allotments are severe. Farmers are looking for something new to take some of the economic sting out of crop reduction. Soybeans did the trick back in the days before the war. Now they are an integral part of farm economy.

Grasses Valuable

Agronomists and livestock men have learned a lot about the value of grasses since that time. Large scale feeding experiments conducted by the University of Illinois at Dixon Springs have proved that properly maintained grass and legume pastures can be the most profitable section of the farm. The sure to be a good demand for the seed in the next few years, as land used almost exclusively for wheat and corn must be turned to some other crop," he observed.

Latins Are Different, Declares Dr. Stowell In Lions Club Talk

A comparative analysis of the differences between the "Yankees" of North America and their cousins in Mexico was presented last night by Dr. E. E. Stowell, head of the modern languages department of Illinois College, when he addressed the Lions club.

The customs, aspirations and philosophy of the two peoples are far apart, and naturally so, Dr. Stowell declared as he told of the trials and errors of Illinois College students who go each year to study at Mexico City College. There were 20 students in last year's group. All of them had a limited command of the Spanish tongue and most of them were majors in the economics and history departments.

"We tell our students to forget they're 'Americans.' After all, a Mexican has every right to consider himself an American and he is sure to resent any implication that he isn't," the speaker pointed out. "So we have to consider ourselves as the Yankees from North America."

"Avoid Comparisons"
"We also have to avoid a lot of comparisons, for although we don't find everything to our liking, many of their customs and institutions are grounded in a history which far antedates ours."

Mexico City College is a recently organized school, but its instructors are from the staff of the University of Mexico, which was chartered in 1550.

Students with a fair command of Spanish learn more about the country and its people, but are even more apt to antagonize the citizenry than do the bumptious visitors who never stray far from English-speaking establishments, the speaker continued.

Life Slower, Easier
The tempo of living is the most striking difference between the two countries, Dr. Stowell declared.

"The Latin is slower, he has not yet admitted that money is the most important thing on earth. Yet he has many of our economic urges—the desire for a higher standard of living and security. But his ideas of security differ vastly from ours, simply because of his philosophical attitudes."

It was announced that the members of the club will put up the annual Christmas decorations in the loop area Sunday.
